Nicky has performed and taught for 15 years with many of Britain's leading contemporary choreographers and dance colleges. She is pleased to announce that though her feet may be getting weary her hands are not, (!) so book in now SPECIAL 10% discount for all Danceworks members.

Nicky's patients have included all the finalists of BBC 1's "So You Think You Can Dance", Jennifer Lopez, Sylvie Guillem, Akram Khan, Russel Malliphant and members of Mark Morris Dance Company.

Because I was a professional dancer and teacher I understand all aspects of what hard work dance is and the strain that it places on your body. I also understand that when you're a committed, enthusiastic and passionate dancer you often overlook good, important technical details and ignore "niggles" because you can't and don't want to stop dancing.

Nicky understands the urgency of wanting to be dancing/exercising a.s.a.p. treatments involve:

Hands on treatment
Advice on how to adapt work so as to continue performing (where appropriate)
How to self manage injury between treatments to speed up recovery time.
Appropriate rehabilitation time-frames and advice on exercises to rehabilitate quickly & safely.

Having been both a dancer and choreographer she also has experience in martial arts, circus skills, climbing and gymnastics.
